

Is Your Risk Assessment “Risk Proof”?

Meet a Proven Risk Management Partner Who Can Help Get You There

Are You a Medical Practice or Healthcare Entity?

The HIPAA Security Rule (“Security Rule”) requires you to protect electronic protected health information (e-PHI) during creation, receipt, storage or transmission.

A Risk Assessment is a core requirement under the Security Rule for all HIPAA regulated organizations. The Security Rule requires you to conduct this process annually to help you identify any threats or vulnerabilities which may harm the confidentiality, integrity or availability of e-PHI. You are required to protect against likely security threats to e-PHI identified by the risk analysis by deploying strong administrative, physical & technical safeguards.

How Do You Benefit from a Risk Assessment?

Avoid Penalties Due to Breaches

Our Risk Assessment process will help you evaluate how e-PHI is protected in your environment. We will help you identify any threats or vulnerabilities especially any which may increase the probability of security breaches. We will recommend appropriate security safeguards to combat the identified threats and vulnerabilities and lower the risk to e-PHI. You can deploy the recommended security safeguards to significantly lower the risk of breaches, which then helps you avoid significant potential penalties.

Fulfill Meaningful Use Requirements

You must perform a Security Risk Assessment annually if you wish to remain compliant with Meaningful Use mandates. You must also attest to completing the risk analysis and taking needed corrective actions to mitigate any identified security weaknesses in your environment.
